5 MAKE THEM AN OFFER THEY CAN'T REFUSE

Create engaging incentives that will encourage your employees to jump on board and sponsor you. Set a workplace or work from home fundraising goal and offer an incentive if it's reached (e.g. a pizza lunch for the department that raises the most funds once back in the office).

Alternatively, host a pyjama day, online trivia night or office Olympics. Not only will these activities help raise funds, they'll also encourage team building and boost morale.

6 CREATE A POSITIVE MEDIA ANGLE

There's an opportunity to dedicate a percentage of your business's sales to the Vinnies CEO Sleepout. This is a great way to create a positive media angle and even boost sales. Alternatively, advocate your participation through industry media – a great way to raise awareness of your company and your cause.

7 GET BY WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM YOUR FRIENDS

Turn the weekly catch up with your team into a fundraiser. Host a Sunday brunch, footy night or even a games night – the sky is the limit!

8 RAFFLE OFF YOUR BEST ASSETS

Does your company sell products or experiences? Perhaps you have access to a corporate box or a piece of memorabilia? Put together a great prize pack made up of your service or product and raffle it off amongst your staff or clients as well as their family and friends!

9 CALL IN SOME FAVOURS

This is where your previous acts of generosity pay off. Who have you supported or sponsored in the past that may be in a position to return the favour now? It's time to ask these people to support you.

10 'THANK YOU' GOES A LONG WAY

Don't forget to thank everyone who has supported your fundraising and be sure to provide them with regular updates on your progress.

BONUS TIP

The Vinnies CEO Sleepout website and your personal dashboard have tonnes of useful templates, resources and promotional materials to assist with your fundraising efforts.

Of course, innovation and creativity are always encouraged so don't be afraid to think outside the box to really make a splash.
